

When Good Ideas Bring Unwanted Results Deuteronomy 1:21-27

- I. "Go up and take possession of...the land" Deuteronomy 1:21.
- II. "Let us send men ahead to spy out the land...and bring back a report..." Deuteronomy 1:22.
- III. "The ideas seemed good to me," Deuteronomy 1:23.
- IV. Unwanted results, Deuteronomy 1:26-27.
- V. When good ideas bring unwanted results.
 - A. Value sweetness of spirit above all else.
 1. Unwanted results always bring about a change in our spirit.
 - a. Bitterness, Deuteronomy 1:27.
 - b. Sweetness, Deuteronomy 1:30.
 2. Who becomes bitter? Those who supremely value good results.
 3. Who becomes sweet? Those who supremely value relationship with Jesus, Genesis 50:20; 2 Timothy 4:16; Revelation 1:9-10.
 4. God wants the best for us, Romans 8:32; Jeremiah 29:11.
 5. What's the best? Sweetness of spirit!
 - B. Heavenly Father brings about superior results.
 1. Moses refused to let unwanted results embitter him.
 2. This sweetness of spirit opened the door into God's presence, Deuteronomy 34:10.
 3. He didn't obtain the promise land, but he gained closeness to heavenly Father.
 4. Father entrusted Moses with an assignment superior to leading Israel into the promise land, Luke 9:30-31.
- VI. Don't worry about your ideas that bring unwanted results. Zealously pursue the God who always has a better idea in mind, Ephesians 3:20.

When Good Ideas Bring Unwanted Results Deuteronomy 1:21-27

- I. "Go up and take possession of...the land" Deuteronomy 1:21.
- II. "Let us send men ahead to spy out the land...and bring back a report..." Deuteronomy 1:22.
- III. "The ideas seemed good to me," Deuteronomy 1:23.
- IV. Unwanted results, Deuteronomy 1:26-27.
- V. When good ideas bring unwanted results.
 - A. Value sweetness of spirit above all else.
 1. Unwanted results always bring about a change in our spirit.
 - a. Bitterness, Deuteronomy 1:27.
 - b. Sweetness, Deuteronomy 1:30.
 2. Who becomes bitter? Those who supremely value good results.
 3. Who becomes sweet? Those who supremely value relationship with Jesus, Genesis 50:20; 2 Timothy 4:16; Revelation 1:9-10.
 4. God wants the best for us, Romans 8:32; Jeremiah 29:11.
 5. What's the best? Sweetness of spirit!
 - B. Heavenly Father brings about superior results.
 1. Moses refused to let unwanted results embitter him.
 2. This sweetness of spirit opened the door into God's presence, Deuteronomy 34:10.
 3. He didn't obtain the promise land, but he gained closeness to heavenly Father.
 4. Father entrusted Moses with an assignment superior to leading Israel into the promise land, Luke 9:30-31.
- VI. Don't worry about your ideas that bring unwanted results. Zealously pursue the God who always has a better idea in mind, Ephesians 3:20.